Dedication

Mr. Eric Janicki

To be a great teacher, one must have a passion for helping students. His passion for the students' interests is what makes this teacher stand out in our minds. This man is dedicated to every aspect of his job and life. He is always willing to listen to the students' aspect of his job and life. He is always willing to listen to the students' perspective on an issue and considers this seriously in his own decision making.

His dedication to the Gould community has been greatly appreciated by many. With his motivation, we have acquired a barn and a garden. With his compassion, we have gained a sense of family in the dorms. And with his humor, he has taught us to take things a little less seriously.

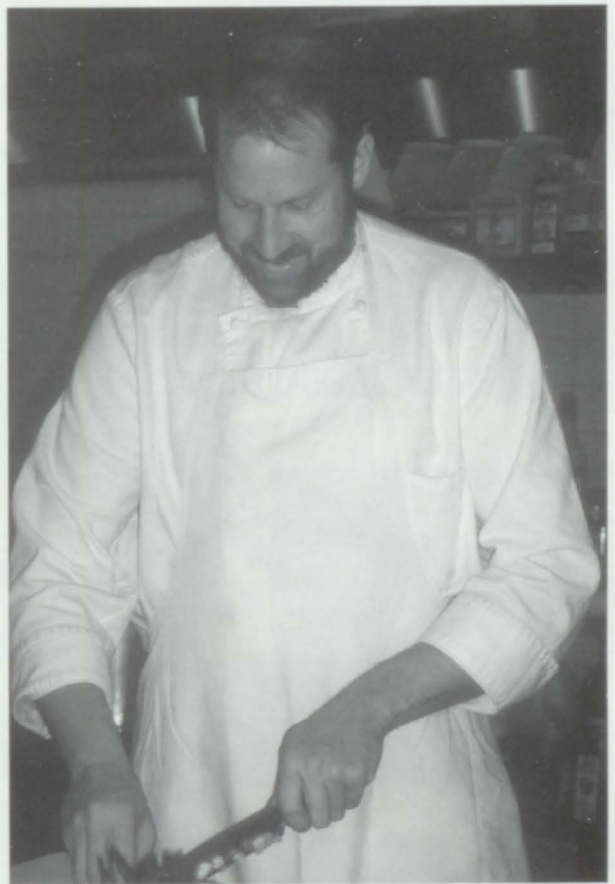

We, the class of 2002, are dedicating this yearbook to you, Mr. Janicki, because you have been so dedicated to us over the last four years.

In Appreciation

If there is one thing we have learned thus far in life, it is that nothing sets the tone for a time and place like good food. This year at Gould we have been most lucky to have had Brian Scheiddegger as our Head Chef: a man who not only knows his food, but cares about the students and teachers who eat it.

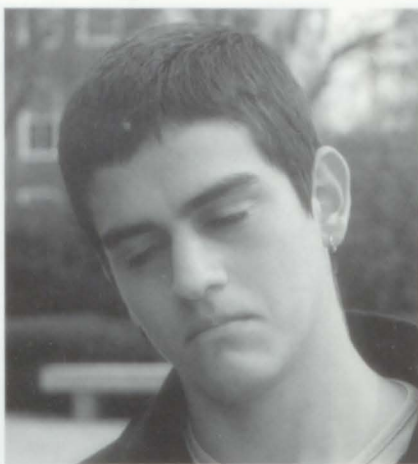

Brian, this yearbook is in appreciation for your easygoing personality, hard work, and not to mention your incredible food.

Thank you Brian!

~ When I go to bed, I awake: From a dream that is my life: The dream of being with you: For when you're here with me: Everything in the world is right: When I sleep: It's time I can't spend with you: And for that, always a nightmare.

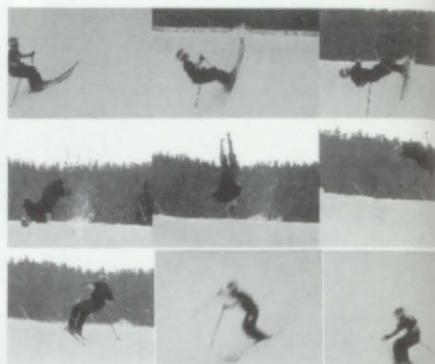

Seventeen and burnt out on desire: Halted here by my misconceptions: The ones that thought the world to be just fine: But now I see I was just blinded by: By what I hoped the world to be to me: All my ideas of a happy ending: All that truth I once saw now turns to lies: My dream falls short and I'm here all alone: Here for eternity on this bare earth: Punished to walk only with my shadow: The only one I can trust to be there: But when night arrives I'm back to nothing: The nothing I will suffer forever: I once believed ardently in my life: That was a wish of the past for I see: I see now the world is not as it seems: It is a mere illusion to us all: It hides all of its pain to the young ones: And burdens the adults with its problems: So then your dream too will one day be crushed: When you realize what lies ahead of you. When I go to bed I awake: From a dream that is my life: The dream of being with you: For when you're here with me: Everything in the world is right: When I sleep: It's time I can't spend with you: And for that, always a nightmare.

A face: So soft and gentle: What stories her lips could tell: The help her hands could: bring: NO.: The tears her eyes shed: The confusion her head feels: When she's betrayed: Not by her enemies: But by the ones closest to her: When can one run: When it is your friends: That you are running from?

You say I make you happy: When all I do is give you a reason: A reason to ignore all: the things: The things that make you sad: But is that happy?: Or am I just the aspirin of your life?: Here to cover the pain and emotion: The feelings you really have.

Mom and Dad - Thank you for EVERYTHING, there is no better way to say it. Everyone who I have met during my four years here has been an influence to me. If I named people individually I might leave someone out. There are those I could always talk to, rely on, trust, and relate to. Those that made me smile, laugh and always made me happy. Those who were generous and kind. Those from soccer, skiing, and lacrosse. Those I could go to when I was upset or anything was wrong. Those I could just have fun with. Those that always said "hi." And those that fit all of the above. Thanks ...

In being here 4 years I've met and made many friends. Through these friends I've learned more about myself, and more about friendships. First off I couldn't have done this without the immeasurable love and support from my family. I send props out to all my friends at home cause you'll always know that The Captain makes it happen! Max, Jamie, Josh, and Lucci you all had my back and taught me the true meaning of respect. Megan & Lydia, I love you both so much, and we'll always know where "duddy" was born. Lindsey, what can I say other than you'll always have first place. Jessie, "that one really hit me!" I'll never forget the Mobil. Sarah, in the end we are better people. Aidan, you had a lot of what I wanted, and even got what I had. But you're a good kid and I know you mean well. You've got a lot to learn, good luck. Everybody that's still at Gould, look at what you have because it maybe more than what you think. And remember what goes around comes around. Late.

Morison: I truly love you. I was going to write about everything I got away with this year but a certain dorm parent advised that it's not a good idea. So for all of you that participated in those close calls . . . word. Golf team good luck in hand! Garebear. Lax: Mr. Graham you're a good guy and I enjoyed playing under you even if I got a "little frustrated" at times. Seniors resist the temptations of freshman girls, please. Ms. Mannings You're the best and you make some mean dorm snacks. Thanks Gould for teaching me how to get away with all sorts of things getting me addicted to AOL IM, but above all opening my eyes to the world that awaits me. Peace and much Love to all of you. I got 8 more words. Whoop's four more. Damn!

Sciences: hello physics "can I have some more please?" History: "it's never the same after you have McGuire as a teacher." I don't know about foreign languages . . . I kind of forgot what it was like to speak anything but English. Unss engineering.

Felton: YES POTTERY!

Meg: You're the nicest person I know at this school.

To anyone I forgot, you can write your name here : I'll miss you.

In 350 words I am allowed to express my 4 year experience here in any way I want. Now, I could take the typical route and send shout outs to about 40 people, then realize I forgot someone. Or I can be blunt and to the point with a few. And of course I'll have to end my senior quotes with song lyrics of some kind. Because I decided to slack and not finish, I am now rushing to hand this in on time. So if you're name doesn't show on my page, don't worry, you're not forgotten. Mom, Dad and Madeline - words can not express how grateful I am for the opportunities you provide for me. Teachers/Coaches - Thanks. Mike - ok, CVA is alright. Kate - 3 year roommate . . . you sick of me yet? Adora - you've influenced my life more than even you know. Vogt-House Girls - I cherish the friendships and all the memories we've created in our 4 years. You're an incredible bunch of friends to have. Late Comers Caroline, Sarah, Caitlin and Jennie, our time though shorter, I have friends in you that'll last a lifetime. Kian - in 40 years or so, I know that when I walk into D'ellies you'll be there to sit with me. Thanks. Thomson never lose your passion. Emmett good luck with soccer. Dylan I'll see you where the snow is. Aiden you're crazy. MO you're welcome. Lauren you're a sweetheart. Greg and Bora - Check yah later. So much to say, so little space. That's what happens when you don't speak enough. I'm not even going to try to say all that needs to be said in here. Hopefully by now that's all been dealt with. To all my teachers, dorm heads, and coaches: Gould has been the best experience of my life, largely because of you. It's been loads of fun, and leaving all of this will be hard to do. Lee, Nicky, Mewton, Martel, Happy-Charlie, Jay Steiner, Aaron Huggies, and Meg H: Through all the good times and bad times, I'm glad I had all of you to share the experience. I couldn't ask for a better group of friends to be with. Keep it cool, and have fun. And to all of you, keep in touch, and I hope I run into you at some point later on down the road. The past few years have been the best I can remember, and the good times will always live on in memory. I love you all! Life is a funny thing. As soon as I thought I had it figured out, everything changed, and I was left wondering again. I guess I'll just have to hang in there and see what happens.

A few things to remember:

- Mewton in Huggies' closet
- Mewton on Gibbon's computer
- Laxative for soda thieves
- The Big Lebowski: "The Dude Abides"

Mom, Dad, Roger, Mary Beth: I am more grateful to all of you than I ever show. You all have supported me throughout my life and I hope that I can some how pay back the debt I owe you for this guidance. The older I become the more I realize how important you all are to me. I will try to make you proud.

Jenny & Ian: I couldn't ask for more in family or friends. Ian stay out of trouble and stay away from girls, they are nothing but trouble. Jenny I know someday you will figure it all out, so don't worry about what anybody says.

My Friends: You know who you are. No matter how far we stray from our roots we are Bethel Boys forever, don't forget the good times we had here.

I may lose you for a while but don't be the one that gets away. You have taught me more about life and about myself then anyone. I love you and I always will, no matter what happens I will always be here for you all you have to do is just give me a call.

I'm going to speak to anyone who might care to listen. I'm not going to write quotations from songs I'll never like again, or "shout out" to people I'll never see again, but instead tell people what I was never able to express during my years at high school, hoping that you'll realize what's really important: I've changed a lot. I've altered my style, my personality, and even who I am . . . trying to find what I'm really made of. Freshman year, the headmaster quoted Frost by saying that "in order to be found you, must allow yourself to be lost" . . . thus the story of high school. Recently I grew . . . I don't know how or why. I realized that in the past I truly wasn't proud of who I was for fear of conveying the wrong image to my peers. My senior year I learned how to be myself: the confident, introverted, musically inclined, incredibly "unique", single, drama geek that I am. And I'm slowly learning to be proud of it. Therefore, I'd like to thank my mom, dad, sister, and brother for helping me with my journey . . . and the people at Gould for helping me realize who I am, and most importantly am not. But to the some that truly mean something to me: Shula - don't let Gould swallow you up, and always be my little grape nut! Meg, my Egg - thanks for helping me realize that dorkdom is cool! HURRAY FOR SOCKS! Andrea - thanks for ALWAYS being there for me, now all that's left is teaching me to drive stick shift! Joshua Leibowitz (<---spoken in native Kellet dialect) - You may not know it, but you were the first one to prove to me that boys don't have cooties and that they can also be some of the greatest friends, thanks. Back in P-town: Kristin - You were the beginning, middle, and hopefully not end, to my social journey. Regardless of our differences we have one thing in common: we'll be best friends forever. Past, present, and future graduates of Gould Academy: Think for yourselves! High school is not your life, but it will shape your future . . . grow from it. Erika H. - We're both God today!

Dai - You are a great friend, you were always willing to do things with me and you were always there for me. I know someday you will be able to do a flip on skis.

Marcus - Keep you goove up, I know that you will make it to the NBA and become one of the greats.

Eric - Stop playing computer games and go see the outside world.

Caitlin - Why can't more girls think like you? Life would a lot easier.

Emily - I can't help but to tell you to quit smoking, it will kill you.

Rebekah - I am sorry, forgive me.

Lee and Nicki - You are perfect for each other, stay together.

Brie and Justine - I had the biggest crushes on you both, but I don't know if I will ever get the chance to do anything about that. So if I didn't, I am telling you now so that you know. Who knows, maybe someday we will meet again.

When we learn to work with our own inner Nature, and with the natural laws operating around us, we reach the level of Wu Wei. Then we work with the natural order of things and operate on the principal of minimal effort. Since the natural world follows that principle, it does not make mistakes. Mistakes are made - or imagined - by man, the creature with the overloaded brain who separates himself from the supporting network of natural laws by interfering and trying too hard. Sometimes one creates a dynamic impression by saying something, and sometimes one creates as significant an impression by remaining silent. - Dalai Lama

My sophomore year through senior year is finally done. Three years of high school is a little too much. 2001-2002, it was a very rough year to describe. I leave only with the memories of the amazing friendships I have made. My parents - Thank you so much for all that you've done for me, you both have truly been my inspiration. Someday I hope I can pay you back for your kindness.

Big Spen Dagg - You're the man, the ladies man. Have a great time at school for one more year. You keep looking ahead; the finish is much closer than you realize bro. Don't let anyone take away your spark.

Pimp Eric Bach - You are the pimp dude! You are such a great person. I hope we've developed a strong friendship.

Will & Caleb-Yo Playas . . . (Sheepish grin) I hope all the ladies are finding you right wherever you guys are.

Brian-Man, you are one of the funniest kids ever. We had some good times dude. You better stay DL forever, I know you are staying cool.

Mc Haku - You've been a good younger brother, you have to stay out of the trouble and be good. If you need help, meet me at LEMON HOLE.

Carolyn - Words can't express what you mean to me, but you are a wonderful person. Your support has helped carry me through everything. You're the best stable girl and friend anyone could ever have. "I love you!"

Mr. & Mrs. Manning - It is already here, my senior year of high school. I will never forget what you have helped me so much while I was here.

My three years at Gould Academy cannot be described in any amount of quotations. I had both good times and bad times but that's life and now its time to move on.

Ryan-You will probably laugh at me about this quote but I couldn't come up with anything else. Words cannot describe how thankful I am to you. I'm so happy I had a chance to get to know you well. I've learned many things from you, but the most important things you have taught me is to love and trust someone. You mean so much to me and no matter what happens in the future I hope we will still keep in touch with each other. Love Chika.

Brittany Coward

First and foremost I would like to thank my mom, dad, grandparents and my aunt Leslie for guiding me for the times I needed guidance. Their dedication to see me succeed is something I will never be able to repay. I would like to say thank you to all my new friends I made here. I've only been here for a year and already I feel right at home. Even though I've only known y'all for a very short time each and one of you have left an impression on my heart. To Brady thank you so much for being a great friend this year, I don't know how this year would have gone if we weren't such good friends. You're going places. To Cybele not sure if you're coming to Gould but I know you'll be a leader anywhere you go. Good luck girl. To the rest of y'all remember the face and the name because I might be famous one day. So holla back!

MAISAD Champions Again!

Men's Varsity Soccer

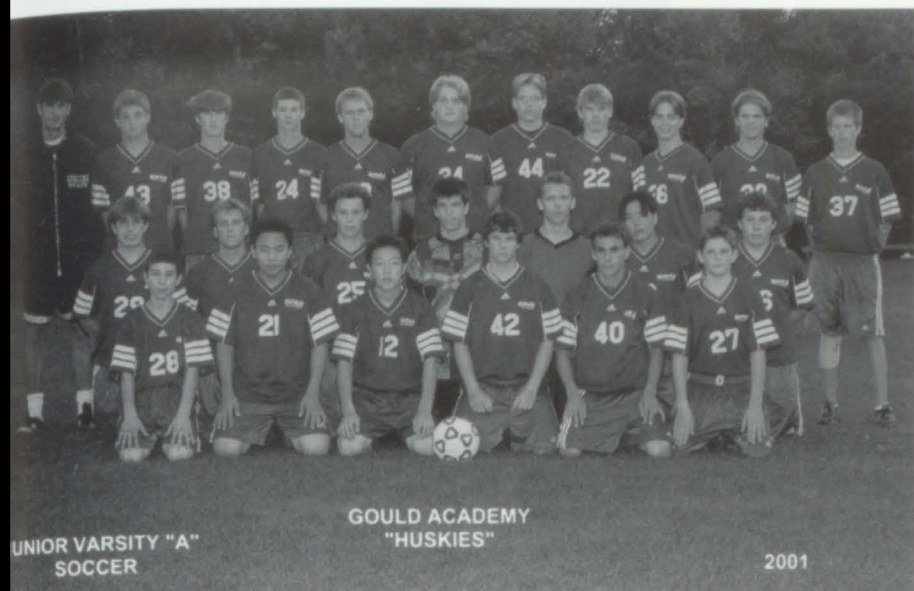

The Men's Varsity Soccer team was led by senior captain Emmett Donovan and other three year varsity players: Ryan Wheeler, Brian Broderick, Dylan Hood, and Matt McCawley. The team was able to play some brilliant soccer throughout the season. The style of play and ability of each player was not consistent with the team's record of two wins, six losses, and two ties.

Each player improved throughout the season and worked hard to find success during each game. As a team we created numerous scoring opportunities each game but could not find the back of the net. Bora Yetil, Dylan Hood, and Matt McCawley led the team in scoring. Emmett Donovan led the team in assists. Brian Broderick, Ryan Wheeler, and Scott Kiesel helped stabilize the defense in front of goalkeeper Greg Schroy. Anthony Liberty earned the most improved player award. Dylan Hood earned the Sportsmanship Award. Brian Broderick and Emmett Donovan earned MAISAD All Conference selections. Brian Broderick was selected to play in the New England All Star Game.

The seniors have had a great career here at Gould Academy and will always be remembered by the coaching staff as exceptional soccer players who played with style, composure, and intention. We wish them all well in all they pursue and know they will enjoy the game throughout their lives.

This year's JVA team saw much success while learning a great deal. A strong defensive effort led to a 6 and 3 record. Dan Gopen received the sportsmanship award for his efforts with the team on and off the field. Good fun was had by all.

JVA Men's Soccer

JVB Men's Soccer

2001 was the quintessential year for the Men's JVB Soccer team (otherwise known as "JVB," since there isn't another JVB anything). Although we won a few games, we lost many more; however, this has always been the case with JVB, so few people were surprised. Coach Redmond unwittingly signed up to coach the team and ended up doing reasonably good job at it. Ethan Elliott-Williams and Dai Kamamoto, the first four-year JVB veterans in many moons, led the team as captains, with Stephan and Chris filling in when necessary. A complete list of players on the team and how well each did would be long and incredibly boring. Just be content with the fact that all players were equally excellent, although some players were more equal than others. Eric Lightbody won the Coach's Award, while Morgan Golden won the Ethan Award. Congratulations to everyone on a great season, and if you don't improve before next fall, prepare yourself for another wonderful year of JVB.

Mountain Biking

Our team had an immense year. Strong finishes were had by all!

With a record of 5-4-1, the field hockey team started the season off very well. This year's captains were Erin Curry and Chelsea Marshall. The high scorer for the season was Danielle Riss with five goals and two assists. Suzy Sams, a new addition to the team, had two goals. Robin Chace and Cassie Mason both scored one goal in their third season on the team. The JV award was given to Emily Choe, a freshman who had never seen the sport before but amazed the team each day with her improvements. The most improved award for varsity was given to Ashley Oliver, a junior who moved up from JV to become the starting sweeper. Along with being elected captain for 2002, Tricia Bean received the sportsmanship award for her continuous support of other players as she anchored the team's defense at center halfback. Tricia will work with Erin Curry who will remain captain for next year. With the loss of only one senior, Chelsea Marshall, the team is lined up to regain the title of MAISAD Champions with nine rising seniors.

The success that the Gould women's basketball team achieved this year exceeded everyone's expectations. We finished the season with an 11-4 record, with big wins over previously undefeated Eastgate Christian Academy thanks to Mira Jube's buzzer beating basket and highly competitive Kents Hill in their sparkling new athletic facility. Martha Gray and Brady Wheatley were outstanding captains, both on and off the court. With such a strong winning record, we were afforded a first round bye in the regional Class D tournament. We met Richmond High on their home turf in the second round and lost a heart breaker. Next year, Augusta!

This year the Gould Academy Huskies played an outstanding season. Led by Co-Captains Ryan Wheeler and Emmett Donovan and assistant Captain Tim "Ice-T" Brooks the team reached the second round of the Maine Principles Association State Championship Tournament. The highlights of the season included an overtime victory in Saturday matinee game against Islesbrough and a last second victory at number two seeded Elan. The team was carried on the shoulders of Curtis "Hot Chocolate" Daniels, although crippled by "dizziness" most of the season Curtis managed to lead the team in all categories. The Gould Academy Huskies look to build on the success of 2001-2002 as they strive to reach Augusta in 2003

As with all great programs, we experienced both successes and disappointments during the 2001-2002 season. It should come as no surprise to anyone that outstanding programs are athlete driven. We have been fortunate to have so many outstanding athletes competing for Gould Academy this winter and their accomplishments are noteworthy.

The snowboarding season got off to a disappointing start with injuries to key riders Aidan Payson and Mike Lanigan who were lost to the team for the season. Senior Dustin Holzweiss took on the unofficial role of team captain and nurtured new team members Brendan Baba, Brad Lannon and Dylan O'Brien while he himself stepped up and had a great season. Junior Adam Dumont and first year student Kurt Somerville qualified for the USASA National Championships in Mammoth, California where they turned in impressive performances.

The Gould freestyle team was composed of athletes from three different countries, the United States, Japan, and Russia, who stepped to the podium eleven times at major competitions during the season. As with the snowboarders, an early eason injury to Kevin Hanian dashed hopes of his possible qualification to the world junior freestyle team. Fellow senior Mark Paaso stepped up and produced good results at the U.S. National Qualifier in Boise, Idaho and at the U.S. Selection events and NorAms held in Canada. Polina Knyazev and Kelly Price got their first taste of high level competition at NorAm Events while Greg Schroy got to perform at the Eastern Championships. Arseny Knazev and Bill Marshall each had two podium appearances at "B" level competitions and should be top performers in the years to come. Hide Udagawa from Japan weathered every kind of element and trained like a "Trojan Warrior" in an effort to improve his skills.

What a year, 2002! This was the best season of varsity baseball in the past decade! Some of the accomplishments this team had, that few before have, are; defeating Bridgton Academy 8-4, Telstar 12-2, Berwick Academy 5-1 and beating Kents Hill 7-3 for the MAISAD Championship. These were only half of our 8 victories, against 7 losses. This team began the year very inexperienced, returning only three players with much varsity experience, but with great concentration and outstanding effort, they developed into an excellent team.

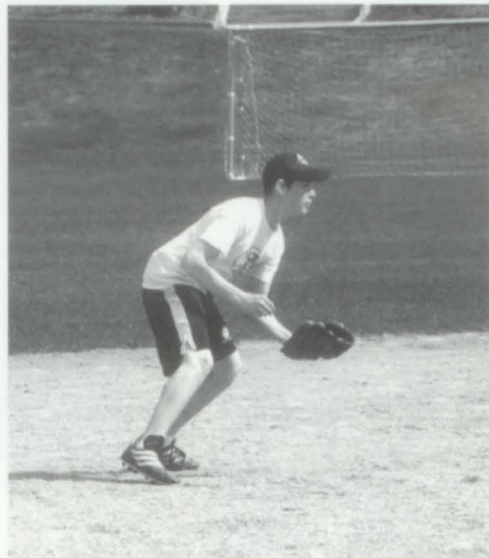

The team consisted of three seniors, Emmett Donovan, Tucker Roberts and Dai Kamamoto, six juniors, Anthony Liberti, Kane Olson, Billy Murphy, Idin Dalpour, Dan Tutor and Jason Mowery, two sophomores, Quinn McAllister and Haku Shimizu, and freshman Karl Olson.

The pitching staff was lead by Tucker, he had a 4-1 record, pitching 39 innings, only allowing 6 earned runs, while striking out 45, Kane (3-4), 32 innings and striking out 37. Quinn, Karl and Anthony also gained experience as a pitcher.

The offense was very balanced, causing severe problems for the opposition. Offensive leaders were, Emmett and Karl each scoring 14 runs, Karl with 17 hits, Anthony 13 and Tucker, Kane and Billy 12.
